"Our solar system moves in cycles of 25,920 years back in elliptical motion to the center of our galaxy, and also removes them again (one cycle is divided into twelve age of a 2160 years). Today We reached a point in time at which our solar system to the galaxy center again close, with the result because we have more "energy" get.

Is our solar system from the original central sun away, one could say that people fall into a sleep. The vibration of the divine light is slower it will be "darker". Is our solar system, however, again Ur-direction central sun or galaxy center, so can this History as a time of awakening call. We are moving today by the furthest from the "light" point away from slowly back to Light Center or the original source of energy.
