From the Book "The Essenes, Children of the Light" by Stuart Wilson and Joanna Prentis, ZARK Mountain Publishers, P.O.Box 754, Huntsville, AR 72740, ISBN 1-886940-87-8,

In this book you will find the thrilling protocols, that gave us the Figure Jesus of Nazareth and his connection to the Essenes in a completely new and authentic light present.

Side 257: Daniel: ... „At that point every human being will be challenged to complete their learning process down here on Earth and move on. We move on by going through an ascension process, because that allows us to access new areas of growth and higher levels of consciousness and being. The energies of love flowing through the heart make this process of spiritual transformation and ascension possible. And if someone's heart is closed, and they are unable to love God and love themselves, then ascension is impossible for that individual. So love is the key to ascension, and I think that's the reason why Jesus taught love. He also taught forgiveness, because that is the best way to clear any obstacles we may have to ascending. Forgiveness constantly clears our energies and lifts us out of hurt and separation. So the work of Jesus was all focused in that one direction. I see it all as preparation us for ascension.

Daniel: ... „Ascension was part of the esoteric tradition in Egypt, and was well understood in the inner schools there....

Joanna: Did Jesus actually teach about this ascended state?

Daniel: „Of course – but only with his disciples, or when visiting our communities. When he was talking out in the towns or villages he would cloak his words, and call the ascended state. „The Kingdom of Heaven“, for it is a separate realm with its own laws and ways of being. And the words „Eternal Life“ were also used to signify this state, for the Body of Light which we shall then wear is immortal and does not decay or die. ... They said that if you do not put the Completion stage before people they will not be able to aspire to it, and may spend many lives at lesser levels. If the idealism, the Sacred Fire in the heart, is not kindled, many ones may sleep their lives away within the home, the market or the temple.

Joanna: „Is it a very difficult thing to ascend?“

Daniel: ... „But Jesus came to change that, and to make the way clear and straight. He told us that ascension is a transformation of the heart. A brilliant mind will not help you to ascend, but a loving heart will. ...

Joanna: „You make it sound almost easy !“

Daniel: „As the cycle progresses it will get ever easier. .. Yet it is important to see ascension always as the Completion stage of our existence. Jesus said that we should aspire towards it should focus upon our area of service, our self-appointed task. He also said, that when our task upon Earth is completed, we should be ready to ascend into the realm of Light. Jesus told us that there comes a point in the development of every human being when the soul is filled with a great longing for the Light. At that point everything that the world can offer seems hollow and worthless. The only thing that will then satisfy the soul is to return to the Light from whence it came, and merge with that Light and become one with it. This state of Oneness with the Light is what we call ascension.

Side 262: „Daniel: ... „The principle of ascension makes sense of all that Jesus said, and without this key he would seem to be speaking in riddles.....Many would prefer to think of a comforting heavenly space, a warm and homey place filled with friends and loved ones. But his Interlife state, this space between lives, always leads us back into another life upon Earth. It is part of the cycle of life and death, and for that reason cannot be an eternal state. Only through the ascension process can we move out of this cycle and know the freedom of endless life as ascended beings, dwelling in Eternal Joy.

Joanna: „So you saw the work of Jesus as being focused on the future, a preparation for what was to come?

Daniel: „Of course. The wise see what is to come and prepare for it. Jesus was wise indeed, and he had wise teachers. He revealed to us the limitless joy of the ascended state and turned our hearts and minds towards Heaven. Jesus opened the way and turned a narrow and difficult path into a broad road into the Light. In doing so, he saved us from continuing in a series of limited physical lives.

He saved us from spiritual poverty and spread before us all the abundance of Eternal Life, for that is truly what the ascended state is.

.....The whole of this testimony gave us a new perspective on the life and work of Jesus. Seeing him as a leader in spiritual transformation and ascension certainly puts him into quite a different context. Altogether this was one of Daniel's most remarkable statements, and it gives practical expression to the words of the Community Rule: „Eternal joy in life without end, a crown of glory and a garment of majesty in unending Light.“ When we realize that this passage in the Dead Sea Scrolls refers to the ascended state, it becomes much easier to understand. Words which might have seemed extravagant or poetical suddenly become a factual description of a real state of being.....

Side 264: ... „Was Jesus, in secret at any rate, teaching what we would now call Ascension Classes? Did Jesus really want his followers to follow him on a path of ascension rather than worship at his feet? Does this mean that we have misunderstood the real purpose of Christianity? And if most people were not ready for his teachings two thousand years ago, are they ready for it now?

Do all the New Testament references to Eternal Life and the Kingdom of Heaven really refer to ascension? Was this the secret message at the heart of the Gospels, the „inner seed“ which gives Eternal Life? ...

If the Earth is moving towards Transition soon, will mass ascensions occur during the next decade? And does that mean ascension will be an option at that time for all people of goodwill, not just exceptionally wise and holy Beings? Does this really mean that many people now living have a unique opportunity NOT to die, but instead to enter immortal life as part of the Edgework of linear-time humanity?

The Christian Church associates ascension with only two people: Jesus and his mother Mary. As Jesus is perceived within the Church as the Only Son of God, this effectively exalts and marginalizes ascension into something that no mere mortal could ever hope to aspire to.

The regression process which forms the core of this book makes it clear that the Essenes had a very different view of things. They saw Jesus as an advanced human being, an Elder Brother who has simply traveled further along the spiritual path. And Daniels account in particular makes it clear that ascension was the central platform of Jesus teaching, and the ultimate goal which he encouraged all true believers to aim for. If this perception becomes widely accepted, it will revolutionize the theory and practice of Christianity , through restoring the lost foundation upon which it was built.

Jesus, the remote godlike figure, is receding into history: Jesus, the advanced human being leading us into ascension is just beginning to come into focus.

Side 317: Daniel: ... „Both, love and forgiveness are processes for the heart, and uniting with the Spirit and ascension are breakthroughs at the heart level. ... Many prefer their limited self which contains very little to the great ocean of the Spirit which contains everything. If they are unwilling to give up the little self, they can never enter the eternal joy of the Spirit.

... That applied particularly to the material concerning what Jesus had taught. When we looked at the whole spectrum of information contained in this research, certain principles of the Way started to emerge:

1. No temples
2. No priests
3. Only the simplest ceremonies
4. Reliance on the Spirit, not upon scripture
5. Love and forgiveness in our hearts for all beings

The Way is a path of the Spirit, a path of the heart and not of the head. The heart simply follows the Spirit and moves towards the Light. In that direct yet profound process we catch an echo of the Essene Jesus, living and teaching long before the New Testament was written.

Remark: In the present time Jesus cannot lead somebody to the ascension, because he left the world 2000 years ago !! One in this world is always the „WORD became flesh“ = are the Masters of „SANT MAT“, the Masters of the Truth and the Masters of the highest order, and these one are practice the Surat Shabd yoga = the highest yoga, the divine yoga, which leads us back to the origin. SANT MAT-masters are authorized alone in the presence to teach the man the ascension and to practice this. The all-powerful strength, however, executes her mission and can only he, the Param Sant Kirpal Singh, lead today's people to the ascension at present, nobody else. See the document Kirpals „Godman“, capel „Past Saints“, published by Ruhani Satsang,USA, ISBN #0-942735-64-1

Quotation Jesus: „ What I have done, you also can do.“ It is a clear note this that every man can make the ascension, which wants to make him !!
