

The spiritual transformation of the earth

From Omnec Onec

I heard for the first time about the transition and the history of the solar system than me at a meeting on the astral plane, to the 1994 I was invited and I had with the help of a long meditation visited, the links were made clear.

Thousands of beings from different galaxies, and non-human, all intelligent and sophisticated creatures, attended this meeting. It was just one of countless occasions when they joined forces for their efforts to save the earth coordinate. Since around 1930 they tried, the vibration gradually increase to a further destruction of the planet to prevent.

Before about 40 million years ago - this information is not accurate, as an earthly concept of time and other dimensions is irrelevant, only the sequence of events is of importance - were four different human races from four different galaxies of the Spiritual Hierarchy (a group of highly developed Ascended Masters), called in this solar system to travel and four of the older planets to colonize.

These people were incredibly well developed: They were able not only to other galaxies, but also in other dimensions and in the past and future travel. They agreed among themselves and with all other life forms, as Angels and Ascended Masters, animals, plants and minerals via telepathy. Spoken languages used only for communicating with less developed creatures.

The technique, which they were available to work in complete harmony with the laws of nature. These people had the concept of creation by virtue of their ideas were understood and responsibly to ensure that, by these forces for positive and constructive things. At this high level of human evolution, there is neither selfish nor striving for power and wealth.

They knew everything about the Creation and the Creator, as well as about their own existence as an immortal soul, not on the physical body is limited. For them there was therefore no death, only the transition from one dimension to another. They chose their life span itself, depending on the experience that they wished to make or tasks that they wanted to meet.

They came into this solar system to the human race there and all life on the planet to protect. the yellow race colonized the planet, which on Earth is known as Mars, the red race settled on the planet Saturn, the black race on Jupiter and the white race on Venus.

The earth was at that time a comet, the second a orbit around the sun of action and a beautiful planet with seas was. There were two moons, which circled the earth and weather conditions for balanced care. From distant galaxies were the four original breeds a variety of animals, plants and minerals here and created a paradise in which all creatures lived in harmony with each other.

In other solar system, there was less advanced civilizations, which also dominated the space, but still at the level of aggression and conquest were. When she becomes aware of the beautiful new planets were, they traveled to Earth to exploit them. These first visitors were intelligent creatures, like humans upright on two legs went, but one dinoiden and reptiloiden race belonged. They were aggressive and were for all other superior beings. They came to the mineral resources, minerals and precious gems imbalances.

In a short time they fought each other with nuclear and laser weapons, as found in science fiction movies knows. They received reinforcement from their home planet, and a party led by the long war from one of the moons. This was in the course of the conflict completely destroyed, as well as the surface of the earth. Most life forms were already of the radioactive contamination and have fallen victim to the ravages made the planet uninhabitable for a long time. The Dinoiden and Reptiloiden left the earth for which they no longer had, and could even their wounded back.

The four races on the four older planet lived, some Volunteers sent to Earth to help the wounded and to the extent of destruction observed. They wanted the earth as quickly as possible to repair, but had to conclude that this was not possible. The volunteers had not even left Earth, because they when they return their home planet was radioactively contaminated. Because of the radiation mutated the Dinoiden and Reptiloiden to the dinosaurs and giant reptiles that you know from the history of the Earth. The people who stay there had mutated to the race which is now called Neanderthals.

For centuries, the Earth was devastated, and the sparse vegetation, hardly enough to feed the giant lizards. Then a large comet in one of the world's oceans, which in addition to the radioactive cloud that surrounded the earth, a mantle of dust and wrapped in total darkness. The heat radiation from the sun, the gravitational field of the earth no longer reach and there was an ice age, the mutant forms of life extinguishes. This gave the four races the opportunity to Earth with the help of its technology and its power to regenerate and to heal. Re-populating the various forms of life and created a new paradise. Due to a moon now, however, ruled extreme weather conditions, strong ocean currents and large differences in high and low tide.

Because the four old planet at this time in their life cycle reached a resting phase in which they have no physical shelter life can be determined, the four races on the earth übersiedeln. Thus, the first colonies, which nowadays Atlantis, Lemuria and Mu are called.

Since the earth was too small to cover all people of the four ancient planets to house, it was decided to only the young generation in the company of some old spiritual teachers and ways to get there. The rest of the population, along with their planets perish and die. They looked calm at her fate, because they have no fear of death knew. The Spiritual Hierarchy has led, however, that they put their lives on a higher dimension level could continue. They retained their technology and their culture and have become guardians of the people on the earth.

On the advice of the spiritual hierarchy built the people on Earth special temple, the gates as a dimension should be used. Thus the people had the opportunity to work in other dimensions of meditation and the Ascended Masters to reach, and the technologies required to manifest. To protect these temples, however well hidden. For the future of the planet, they were of great importance.

Concerned that the moon is all sorts of problems such as storms, volcanic eruptions and earthquakes caused, she studied at the Council of Spiritual Hierarchy. They were instructed, according to the lunar phases of certain quantities of liquid to get too much to the influences of the moon on the human body must be in balance. Then they received the order, two shields Eispartikeln from around the world to build. these structures, called Mente company, were using special crystal structures anchored, which is manifested in the temples and along the equator have been installed. Then there was the whole world a pleasant, subtropical climate. Deserts of sand or ice, there was not.

The Dark Forces, another human race with a different genetic structure, lived in a galaxy near our solar system. They visited the earth in the hope of knowledge of advanced technologies. As their consciousness was not yet very advanced, and these people have joined forces not in the sense of cosmic laws were initiated for the benefit of all, they were denied this information.

Then the dark forces declared the first colonies of the war. This is not defended, but hid in different places of the earth. A group withdrew into the interior of the Earth, where she still lives. Then they destroyed the colonies so that they are not in the hands of dark forces fell, Atlantis, Lemuria and the other colonies were destroyed by its inhabitants to share their knowledge and technology to protect against abuse.

These were also the crystal structures, the firm anchoring of Mente, damaged. The Spiritual Hierarchy warned people on the earth's surface is hidden healed, before a great flood. The company Mente would fall to the earth and by the melting of the ice to release enormous floods. They have been instructed to build large ships and so many life forms to save, as they only could. There were hundreds of Arks, not just the one from which the Bible speaks.

Just as the people waited, the dark forces on the decline of the flood. They returned back to earth, took the people captive and tortured them for information about the hidden temple and on the advanced technology. The Dark forces knew that the people at any time the colonies were able to rebuild as long as they are in contact with the other dimensions were. That's why they used the technology, which they found in the temples had before it the Spiritual Hierarchy have been closed to the survivors to genetically manipulate. They cut their prisoner in the connections between the brain halves. The people lost the ability to communicate to other dimensions and to participate in past life recall. You forgot the spiritual laws and their technological skills, knew nothing of the hidden temples and the Ascended Masters.

The people on the earth, of the dark forces regelrecht reprogrammed. They were divided into different races with different skin color groups, religions, and had received the dark forces as kings and heads of government of each country to recognize. Different languages have been developed. The controlling powers were rich and ruled over the masses of the original inhabitants. All information about the technologies that they are hidden from the temples had appropriated, were only an elite. The dark forces have led the people who were previously in loving harmony together and worked had to lead wars against each other.

The belief that a nation or a religion or a country other than that, and the assumption that certain religious rules were strictly observed, were forced upon the people. For fear of death penalty and they obeyed. The religious leaders even threatened with eternal punishment after death, if you violate the rules breached. Every newborn child had in the name of one of the dominant religions be baptized.

Today, these beliefs are structures unconsciously a part of the existing Gesellschaft and a tradition accepted by all who have no room for individuality and the search for greater truths can.

Deep inside feel the people on Earth, however, that there is more than this life. You can see the sky, and many believe they come from there, and have the feeling that their existence is something wrong here.

Of course, this is the soul that in their true origin recalls.

Transformation now means nothing other than that the Spiritual Hierarchy in cooperation with all matters involved in the manipulation involved in the mistakes of the past will correct. As a first step ensures that the people again aware of the spiritual laws were given. The governments of various countries in the world were contacted, but refused all cooperation, because they believed their power and influence to lose. The invention of the atomic bomb also makes it possible again, the whole planet to destroy. This would have immense impact, not only for our solar system, but for the entire physical universe, and would affect countless creatures.

The Galactic Brotherhood (an association of thousands of highly developed beings from different dimensions) has therefore decided to stop this abuse of power and technology to end peacefully. They work for decades due to the frequency of the Earth to change, that the technologies known today, one day no longer functional.

The increase of the oscillation is very slow, and only since 1993, after the hidden temple had been reactivated and energy from other areas through them on the ground could reach, it is clear that this company will be successful. Around the world, huge spaceships installed to the human eye and not even with the help of radar to discover, to their vibrational energy to the Earth constantly send. All the animals who live on the earth, were angewiesne their vibrations to increase. The people who are their cosmic heritage and its true origins are again aware of, contribute in various ways to increase the frequency on. The more organisms are involved, the faster the change will take place.

The transformation is a slow process, which expires in small steps so that the human cell structure is not damaged. It was an artificial Chakra system created with the help of which the two cerebral hemispheres are synchronized, so skills such as telepathy, intuition, memories of former lives and personal contacts with the masters to awaken again. Chakras are tiny dimension gates by which we contact with the energy of each dimension record. Children who, after 1993 to the world, grounded with the new chakra system and a new awareness was born.

In this transitional period, periodically various physical symptoms, but they pass quickly: short, painful bites, as if someone has a needle into the affected body part sting; high Quietschtöne in the ears, sudden vision problems, which just as quickly disappear, light Herzrhythmusstörungen. Sometimes you feel tired even though you had enough sleep, then again to get a few hours sleep and feel very energetic. My appetite fluctuates, sometimes eaten hardly anything, then you are constantly hungry, no matter how often it takes something to himself. In any case, it is important at this time to drink plenty of water to the body during the transition to support and pollutants leaving.

In meditation or prayer can help everyone, to increase the frequency by providing a peaceful, harmonious transition process visualized and its energy is directed to.

It is very important to have the transformation to this information and speak with all people who are open to share, because the more people aware of and actively involved in the transition to participate, the faster it will lead to success.
