

Ten Commandments of the Master

1. You are blessed with wisdom, tongue, and thought,
Wisdom says, how to sit before Him:
Speak naught, naught, and naught
And make the best use of the whim.¹
2. Be one – Be good – Do good
Be happy, if you have understood.
You are now grown up boys,
Elder boys do not play with toys.
You have come here to lose² learn,
For that, you all must yearn.
3. See the condition of your faith,
You all are getting late and late.
4. Up to date and fashioned boy,
To your ignorance you are still a toy.
Your heart does not rest, and mind you not,
I come to bless and find you not.
5. Sand and water you mix together.
How can they fix together?
