

Truth Eternal

Truth eternal can never be changed,
For thee the bliss eternally arranged.
To your mind help heart, tongue arrange,¹
Give up what earned you in exchange.
Maya dwells in duality ever, mind it,
Self-willed led astray and never find it.
Their coming and going never comes to end,
Hard steels break but never bend.
Without equipoise it is matter and dust,
Attachment equipoises not and brings but lust.
Virtues within are His numerous gifts,
Better stay, wait not, think and shift.
Kirpal, the Gracious, comes to rescue,
Right now determine and fix your view.

¹ You must bring heart and tongue together. You must speak what is in the heart.